The banquet was at the expense of the vice-president's side, losers in the annual president vs vice-president competition, and was catered by the members of the Ladies Curling Club.

President C. R. Robson was chairman for the first part of the meeting and presented a travelling clock to Jim Clark, chairman of the ice committee, in appreciation of the efficient work he had done on this committee.

Officers Elected

Officers for the new season were elected as follows:

Howard Spaeth, president; Montie Findlay, first vice-president; Del Graham, second vice-president; P. A. Thomson, secretary-treasurer.

Executive committee: Lloyd Graham, John Jamison, Bob Willard, Jim Clark, Earl Erickson, Jim Jensen.

Ice committee: Jim Clark, Fred Mensinger, Evan Munro, Ken Loucks.

A meeting will be held immediately after harvest to arrange for getting any necessary work on the rink done.

Entry fees in the annual open bonspiel were set at $20 a rink.

It was decided to hold a double knockout bonspiel, with regular square draw rinks participating, entry fees to be $8.00 per rink.

Acknowledgement of the High River Cleaners trophy donated by Bill Jeffs was made. This trophy goes to the rink with the least number of losses during the season's square draw play.

YOUR GOVERNMENT

(By Andy Smadon)

A legislative program which should bring relief to Alberta taxpayers, and distribute some of the wealth in the provincial treasury to the people, was indicated in the speech from the Throne at the opening of the legislature in Edmonton February 22.

Perhaps the most important item to Albertans, who foot the bill for anything the government does, was the reference to a program of aid to municipalities. As every ratepayer knows municipal taxes have been increasing; now it appears that something is afoot to lighten the load.

The government has been secretive about its plans, and they will not likely be fully known until the budget comes down. But the throne speech declared that unconditional grants would be made to all municipalities together with "provision for the easement of municipal taxation."

It has been learned that the cities of Calgary and Edmonton have been offered unconditional grants equivalent to the amount of revenue received from 3% mills and a grant of three mills if they hold their tax line. So for other areas it seems likely that the grant of 3% mills will be made, plus about three mills (the equivalent value in revenue, that is) if taxes are reduced. So the ratepayer can look to some plan to prevent his taxes rising or perhaps even a reduction.

The plan would apply to improvement districts and special areas as well as municipalities. The proposals have been kept so secret so far, and official releases on the details (and what the tax bill may be) are not available yet.

In addition the throne speech promised help to municipalities by increased road construction grants under a formula which will reduce from 40 per cent to 25 per cent the amount which municipalities are required to provide to qualify for this form of assistance.

The self-liquidating loan project started in 1950 with $5,000,000 will be increased. The original $5,000,000 repayable at two per cent interest was quickly borrowed by municipalities, which had projects which would pay for themselves. Now it will be expanded.

And loans for municipal projects which are not on a paying basis will be given. From the Throne Speech, this appears to be a new plan under which the province will put up a voluntary annuity scheme. The province will contribute and the citizen will pay into a fund, at least some of which will be loaned back at low interest rates, again likely at two per cent. The annuities will pay off at retirement age, so in effect it provides a pension scheme for rural people similar to those which employees of many urban firms have.

The government also forecast additional school grants and expanded loans for school building under the assistance act which puts up 25 per cent of the money needed for school building and requires one half of that to be paid back.

Thus the government expects to "share the wealth". Whether it will be enough to satisfy the hard pressed municipalities and taxpayers and what conditions or "strings" are attached, is not apparent, but will unfold as the legislature gets down to work.

Candlelight Circle Assists Missions

The February meeting of the Candlelight Circle of the Church of Christ was held at the home of Mrs. Nelsie Robertson with 30 members and three visitors present.

After a discussion it was decided each member would bring used clothing to the next meeting to be sent to the Missionaries in India for distribution to Indian people. A committee volunteered to look after this.

Twelve salt and pepper shakers two sugar and creamers and 13 pickle dishes were turned in for the church kitchen and three dozen

Skating Club's Ice Revue Presented Last Sunday

The ice revue held in the local arena Sunday afternoon was attended by a crowd of almost 500 and the show put on by Mrs. Roberta Davis and her 32 students received the well-earned plaudits of the large audience.

The ice was perfect, and the show began with the entire cast performing figure eights. From this setting Mrs. Davis demonstrated many fundamentals in figure skating, with each move being described by Harris Matlock, who acted as commentator.

The program included the following numbers:

1. Let's Skate, a drill by the youngest members including Cherry Haydamack, Kathleen Haverly, Dianne Collier, Ellen Herman, Jean Ann Matlock, Margaret Willard, Margaret Joiner and Marjorie Robinson.

2. "Ring around the Rosie" with Nora Chell and Helen Haverly, but due to the sudden illness of Nora, the three Haverly sisters, Colleen, Helen and Kathleen substituted with an impromptu trio.

3. A beautiful solo number was performed by Donna Lloyd.

4. "A Swirl and Whirl" number included Colleen O'Connell, Wendy Speer, Darlene Howe, Eloise Whiteside, Patay Robertson, Terry McAfee, Connie Neville and Shirley Northcott.

5. "A Bit of Swing", a pair performed by Sharon Buehler and Colleen Haverly.

6. "A Solo in Spirals" by Miss Donalds Debolse.

Home and School Rally Addressed By Dr. Tompkins

Between 80 and 90 parents and teachers attended the Home and School Rally, held recently in the Legion hall. Forty-five new members joined the Home and School, making a total membership of over 60.

The short business session preceded a well-planned program for the evening's entertainment, including a tap dance routine by Marlene and Donna Lloyd, vocal solo by Cecil Warden, solo by Miss Margaret Christensen of Calgary accompanied by Miss Mary Spaeth. Miss Spaeth also favored the gathering with a number of piano selections.

The speaker for the evening was Dr. A. D. Tompkins, who chose as his subject "Rules for Healthful Living." He emphasized four points. First was to keep fit physically, the old rule of the sound mind in the sound body being a good one. Second was the cultivation of emotional tranquility, secured by replacing bad habits with good ones, practising relaxation, a congenial environment and the four securities of confidence in ourselves, in one's home life, in one's associates, in God. Third was good escape mechanisms, such as ample sleep, hobbies and other constructive pursuits. Fourth was an acknowledgement to ourselves of unattainable goals and exchanging these goals for others of social value. Dr. Tompkins' talk was very well received.

The executive was advised to hold a meeting shortly to discuss ways and means of raising funds with which to carry on the work of the Home and School.

A good attendance is urged for the next general meeting especially as a delegate will be chosen then to attend the provincial convention in Edmonton in May.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Saxby and her committee, to bring the evening to a pleasant conclusion.

tablespoons purchased by the circle.

$10.00 was also sent to Missions. Mrs. Doug Smith closed the meeting with a very interesting devotion.

The social part of the evening was conducted by Myrtle Walker. This included the exchange of Pollyanna Valentines. The tea raffle was won by a guest, Mrs. McCord from Milo. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Tom Bogner.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Nan Degenstein.

WINNERS OF ELLISON EVENT AT LETHBRIDGE BONSPIEL

The game which won the big silver trophy and the individual prizes of silver tea sets for the Vulcan curlers was reported to be the best game of any of the five finals and was heard over the air by many Vulcan listeners. Playing against the Gunnar Holte rink of Lethbridge, Vulcan was one down as the 12th end got underway but the Vulcan skip tied the score with a one-ender and then won in the 13th. Holte threw last rock and just missed Spaeth's shot rock by a whisker to give the Vulcan skip victory in the hard fought game.

Mrs. Sales the president, was in the chair while the secretary, Mrs. Jones, read the minutes of the last meeting. The financial report was given by Mrs. Marshall, treasurer.

Much of the business session was given to naming of committees and making of other plans for the Zone Rally, to be held here April 4th. As this will be the first Rally ever held in Vulcan by the Legion Auxiliary and representatives from all branches in the MacLeod

Calgary Highlanders Form New Platoons in District

During the past week, three new platoons of "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders, have been formed at district points, bringing the total strength of the local Reserve Army company well over the hundred mark.

Local officers, assisted by some Calgary members of the unit, enlisted 30 men of the Milo-Queens town district to form a Milo platoon of the company. At the organization meeting held at Lomond 26 men of the Lomond-Armada district passed the medical examination and were enlisted to form the Lomond platoon.

At Milo, the L.O.O.F. hall is being leased for parade purposes and the Milo platoon will parade every Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The Lomond platoon will parade each Thursday evening in the Lomond Community Hall, which is being leased for these nights by the Department of National Defence.

At Champion, a good start was made in forming a platoon for that district, with 12 men enlisted. Transportation is being provided for the Champion men to attend the regular Tuesday night parade at the Vulcan Armouries until such time as the strength of the Champion platoon reaches 25, when arrangements will be made to provide accommodation for this platoon in Champion.

The Calgary Highlanders platoon at Blackie has been re-organized. It now has a strength of 16 men and is recruiting steadily to reach its objective of 25 men. Transportation is provided for the Blackie platoon to parade at Vulcan every Tuesday night and at the start of the new training season this platoon will re-occupy its own armories in Blackie.

In Vulcan strength is now 36 all ranks, with instruction being provided by the local officers and officers and N.C.O.'s from Calgary. Instructors for the outlying platoons at Milo and Lomond will be provided from Calgary, with an additional N.C.O. instructor being based at Vulcan.

Need For Scout Hall Seen

Scout Week Observed Here By Parents Night; Church Parade

Vulcan Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies observed Scout Week by the holding of a Parents' Night Friday evening last, which was attended by some 50 parents and a representation from the L.O.O.F. lodge, which is the sponsoring body of the movement in Vulcan. W. A. Shields and Rev. E. A. Justice, Scout Master and Assistant; A. Groves and A. H. Collier, Cub Master and Assistant; Mrs. J. P. O'Connell, Guide Leader; and Mrs. A. Groves, Brownie Leader, were all present.

The demonstration of Cub work and games was especially commendable, while the Brownies, the girls' counterpart of Cubbing, also were splendid with their singing and showing of their work.

The Scouts and Guides combined their part of the program which included games of their training and proved exceptionally good. All work shown paid high tribute to the efforts of the men and women who, as leaders, are doing such a splendid thing for the young people.

Investiture of 1st Star Cub Dale Clark; Scouts Roger Roebuck, Gary Banks, Eldie Robertson, Michael Janitzie, Jack Melnick and Reg. Scotney; Guides Marilyn Rutberg and Jean LaPage and Brownies Enid Fulton, Doreen Johnson, Deloise Johnson, Jeannette LaPage and Lynne Speeth, was held.

Each Cub Pack Sixer was presented with his colors, with Sixer Jay Scott receiving the special award for best all-round achievement. Warner Roebuck was presented with his second-class Scout badge.

Use of the hall and lunch was donated by the sponsoring L.O.O.F. with the Mothers' Auxiliary and other interested ladies serving the lunch.

John Hunter, president of the Foothills District Council addressed the young people on Civil Defence and gave a brief outline on Plan Achievement.

Mrs. O'Connell and Mrs. Groves each spoke on the work of the Guides and Brownies.

James Shortt thanked all present for their interest in the boys and girls of the town and district

Golden Wedding Anniversary of Ensign Couple

Mr. and Mrs. George Flebotte of Ensign celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday, Feb. 17, with an open house during the afternoon at which 110 relatives and friends signed the guest book. A very tasty luncheon was served to all who came to extend their congratulations. Following the open house a dance was held in the evening, and everyone returned to again give their best wishes to the happy couple.

Married on Feb. 18th, 1901, at Springfield, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Flebotte lived for a time at Indian Orchard, Mass., moving to the Ensign district in 1914. Mr. Flebotte farmed here until 1943 when he retired and moved into town. They have three daughters, Mrs. Lowell Elston of Spanaway, Wash., Mrs. Harry Brown of Okotoks, and Mrs. Baden Brown of Ensign. They also have 12 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Flebotte were presented with a chest of silver from their friends in the community, and Mrs. Flebotte was the recipient of a lovely corsage presented by the Ensign Ladies Community Club. They also received numerous gifts from the family, and also from Mr. Flebotte's brother, Peter Flebotte and his nephew Napoleon Flebotte, both of Ensign. The gifts from the family included a wrist watch for Mr. Flebotte and a lovely pendant for Mrs. Flebotte.

On Sunday afternoon a dinner was held for the family and close relatives at which about 30 were seated.

and commended the leaders for their efforts. He remarked that there are now some 40 Scouts and Cubs enrolled here and around 25 Guides and Brownies. He particularly emphasized the pressing need of the Scout hall in Vulcan. For many years now the L.O.O.F. have very graciously allowed their hall to be used for this purpose but the full training program of Scouting and Cubbing needs a special building to carry it out.

Church Parade to the United church Sunday morning by all four young groups with their flags was well attended. As many of the leaders as could be present were also in attendance. Scouts Michael Janitzie and Warner Roebuck served as ushers.

Rev. O. H. Rollis, pastor of the church, gave an inspired sermon, using as his theme Scouting and Guiding and outlined briefly the life and work of Lord Baden Powell, founder of the Movement. Linking the Scout and Cub Laws to the Ten Commandments, he showed that by following them and living up to what the Laws as well as the Commandments taught, each boy and girl could achieve a happy and useful life.

A solo by Terry McAfee "Somebody He'll Make a Plan", a duet by Rita and Anne Nicol, "God Will Take Care of You", and appropriate music by the choir accompanied by Mrs. V. Coleman at the organ, added to the occasion.

Vulcan Wins At I.O.O.F. Bonspiel

Two Vulcan rinks competed in the Oddfellows' bonspiel held at High River last Sunday.

The Vulcan rink skipped by Dyce Allan was successful in winning the first prize in their competition. Other members of the rink were Roy Deal, Andy Knive and Bruce Roe.

The second Vulcan rink included Vern Coleman (skip), Clarence Yemans, Les Ruark and Ernie Bowie.

Newspaper Advertising

Just a short while ago, we were reading the results of an interesting survey conducted in a public opinion poll, regarding the merits of radio and newspaper advertising.

The question put to hundreds of Canadians at random was whether they liked to listen to advertising on radio programs, and whether they liked to read advertising in newspapers. Results of the poll showed that only one-fifth of them liked or wanted to hear advertising messages over the air. On the other hand, two-thirds were in favor of advertising in newspapers, and wives especially, were of the opinion that advertising is a necessary and important adjunct to papers.

These findings don't come as a surprise to many of us. We have all been subjected, at one time or another, to the barkings of the radio announcer praising this or that product, with meaningless eulogies. He strives for sincerity, but we can usually detect in his voice a note of boredom about equal to our own. It is irritating to our senses to have a soothing program of beautiful music suddenly interrupted by an excitable, high-pitched voice trying to sell us something we'd rather not hear. A quick turn to the "off" switch is the easiest escape we have found.

Newspaper advertising, on the other hand, offers the public something it is interested in. Thrifty housewives make a regular habit of scanning and studying newspaper ads before they buy. It is to their advantage to do so.

The moral is clear. A newspaper offers a better medium for advertising, because the advertiser's message reaches a more receptive audience. This is proved every day by the many excellent results which advertisers say they obtain from this and other papers.

Building Your Own Community

What your community will be tomorrow is determined by the foundation you lay today. The cornerstone of that foundation is the mutual services rendered and received by the people living in your community.

These essential services include the doctor, the dentist, the druggist and all the merchants. Each seeks in his own particular field to provide a service for you and is doing his utmost to serve you in the best way possible. In an emergency these are the services you depend upon. Therefore, why not reciprocate by buying everything you possibly can within the community where you live and where you make your living? Good business begins at home.

Many comparatively small towns in Alberta can now supply almost every service available in larger cities. This was not always so. It has been made possible only because you and your neighbour continued to call for a service in your own community. The more frequently you call for service of any kind, the better are your chances of obtaining new services and also of raising the standard of those presently offered.

Prosperity always attracts, so why not spend at home the money you earn at home.

—Calgary Power Reddy Reader

If War Should Come

If war should come again to the world, which God forbid, this country should see to it, if at all possible that the conditions of the last great war are not repeated. No one should make undue profits while our boys are risking life and limb in the faroff battlefields. In World War I most businesses in Canada, and particularly the large corporations, made a financial killing. In World War II taxation curtailed profits, nevertheless too many people made too much money.

The result was a period of inflation, following the peace, which cut the value of the 1939 dollar to 58c. This has not greatly bothered those who made big money, but it has been a hardship to the mass of the population.

If we go so far as to conscript young men to fight for our freedom and our civilization, we should not hesitate to conscript, in some form at least, the civilian population which stays at home in comparative safety, and makes good money through war's inflationary effects.

Price control put into effect in World War II did not solve the problem; in fact in some ways it aggravated it. The same can be said of excess profits taxes. Realizing that excess profits would be virtually confiscated by taxation, many businesses operated with little regard to ordinary economies. They spent money on needless expenses, rather than see it go to the government.

It is questionable whether this, or any nation, can go through another war without completely wrecking the national economy. If everyone was drafted such an occurrence might well be evaded.

Epidemic Influenza Is Highly Communicable

(By Foothills Health Unit)

In view of the widespread outbreak of epidemic influenza, the Department of Public Health desires to direct attention to the nature of this disease and the precautions which should be observed in dealing with it.

Influenza is caused by a virus, and the present outbreak has been determined to be due to a strain of virus of the type "A" prime virus, similar to that responsible for the recent influenza epidemic in Europe.

The disease is spread by direct contact with a person suffering from influenza. The disease may be mild or severe or mild in type from the onset, and it is possible that infection may be transmitted by persons who are carriers. When infected persons cough or sneeze, virus laden droplets are sprayed into the air. Persons in the vicinity breathing in these droplets are very liable to be infected with influenza. The influenza virus may also be present in articles such as handkerchiefs, towels, and eating utensils freshly soiled with discharges from the nose or mouth.

Epidemic influenza is highly communicable, and the disease develops following an incubation period which may vary from one to four days. The symptoms are: fever, prostration, and agonizing muscle pains. Both mild and severe infections may be accompanied by sore throat, coughing, sneezing and discharge from the nose.

There is no such thing as a "cure all" for influenza. The danger of serious complications, chiefly pneumonia, may be avoided by patients going to bed at once rather than trying to fight the infection, and remaining in bed for three or four days or until the temperature is normal; by taking plenty of fluids, by calling a physician and following his orders. Influenza even in the mild form is an exhausting disease. People who make light of it or attempt to fight it, and who do not go to bed promptly at the onset of an attack, or, who return to work too soon following an attack, run a serious risk of developing pneumonia which is the most serious of the complications of influenza. Those who go to bed promptly and follow the advice of their physician are taking the most effective steps to safeguard their health. By taking these precautions in the great majority of cases, patients will make an uneventful recovery after a few days in bed.

There is no certain way of preventing influenza, but you may lessen the chances of developing infection:

1. By building up good body resistance. By eating nourishing foods. By getting plenty of sleep and outdoor recreation; and by

Calfhood Vaccination

Bang's disease is the main disease common to both beef and dairy cattle, and Alberta cattlemen are becoming increasingly interested in its control. Dr. E. E. Ballantyne, Director of Veterinary Services, Alberta Department of Agriculture, advises that calfhood vaccination increased in the province from 9,000 calves vaccinated in 1948 to 46,300 in 1950. Blood tests at the Alberta Veterinary Laboratory rose to approximately 29,000 last year. Bang's disease causes undulant fever in humans, and it is estimated that at least 60 per cent of the blood testing was done as a result of cattle owners wanting to know whether the milk was safe to drink.

Owners of vaccinated calves are urged by Dr. Ballantyne to keep in a safe place certificates given to them by their veterinarian. Owners of purebred calves should attach the certificates to the registration papers. These certificates are necessary for both export and domestic trade. Anyone purchasing vaccines should ask for the certificate.

Some of the calves vaccinated last fall have already been exported. Since a certificate could be produced showing proof of their vaccination they did not have to be blood tested before crossing into the United States. Under an arrangement made last year, calves vaccinated in Canada at 6, 7 or 8 months of age may now be exported to the United States without a blood test up to 22 months after vaccination. A vaccination certificate is necessary, however, and owners are advised to keep their certificates in safe keeping.

Field Shelterbelts Retain Moisture

In Southern Alberta approximately one quarter of the annual precipitation comes in the form of snow. In areas where the annual precipitation is 16 inches this snow equals four inches of water which is valuable moisture for crop production, if it is kept on the fields. Well established field shelterbelts will keep much of the snow right on the fields.

In 1950, field shelterbelts gave increases of 10 or more bushels per acre of wheat on Mr. Craig Pearce's farm in the Drumheller district. The additional moisture from trapped snow and the reduced surface evaporation by reducing wind velocity were the main factors for increased yields in the field shelterbelts areas.

In the drier areas of the province, it is more difficult to establish and maintain a shelterbelt and the amount of moisture from the winter snow is not as great. Therefore, it is not likely that there will be the increase in yield from shelterbelts in drier areas as in the moister areas of the province.

Well established and properly placed field shelterbelts add beauty to the countryside. They reduce the amount of snow that drifts onto the highways and into the farm yards which makes for less snow shoveling and less pulling and pushing to move vehicles on snow plugged highways and farm yards.

Farmers who are interested in field shelterbelts should contact their local District Agriculturalist for information on planting and distribution of trees and also tree planting machines.

FEWER GRASSHOPPERS PREDICTED FOR 1951

Cool, wet weather in the fall of 1950 undoubtedly reduced egg laying over much of the area where adult grasshoppers were abundant last summer, and officials in the Canada Department of Agriculture's Division of Entomology in the Prairie Provinces report that the area of infestation is about one-half of that of 1950, with the consequent prospect of fewer grasshoppers in 1951.

Entomology officials in charge of the prairie grasshopper surveys report that there are no areas of very severe infestation, and that the areas classified as moderate to severe are less than one third of those in 1950. In Manitoba the outbreak is reported to be confined to the Red River Valley. In Saskatchewan and Alberta the areas of potential infestation are more widespread, but the greater portion of the area is a light and patchy infestation which may require little attention unless the 1951 season is very dry.

Wireworm Control

PLACE YOUR ORDERS EARLY FOR SURE DELIVERY

Wireworm damage is costly—Canadian farmers lose thousands of dollars yearly through wireworm damage to grain and other crops. Now, effective, economical control is possible with GREEN CROSS LINDANE 50 per cent SEED DRESSING. Government tests show wireworm populations reduced as much as 70 per cent.
